

Development Journal - Week #22

My Name: _____

1. Ask your parents if you or any of your siblings were born early. Babies born early are often called "preemies," and they often need very special care. If you or any of your siblings was a "preemie," what special things were done during the early weeks after birth?

2. What was going on in your home when you were just 22-weeks old in the womb? Ask your Mom what sounds you might have heard often and begun to recognize at that time!

3. What kind of things might you have felt your mother doing when you were 22-weeks old? Maybe your mother swayed to calm you down when you kicked a lot or danced with you?
